AFROSOUL & FUNK

ABOUT

Embark on an unforgettable musical odyssey with Serengeti, an extraordinary trio comprised of the phenomenal Kaitie Sly on bass, the soul-stirring vocalist Sade Awele, and the virtuosic guitarist Amine Said. Serengeti's music is a testament to their boundless creativity and emotional depth that redefines the contemporary music landscape, leaving an indelible impression on all who dare to listen. Kaitie Sly's basslines lay the rhythmic foundation, while Sade Awele's soulful vocals serve as a poignant reflection of exuberance. Amine Said's masterful guitar work paints vivid sonic landscapes, creating a perfect backdrop for the listener's journey. Serengeti's music transcends the role of passive observer; it's an immersive experience where the audience becomes an active participant, swaying to infectious beats and poignant melodies. The captivating essence of Serengeti resonates long after the last note, leaving an insatiable yearning for more, making every encounter with their music a transformative and enriching experience.
